Why did Jesus, the Sinless One, submit himself to John's baptism at the River Jordan? John preached a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins (Luke 3:3). In this humble submission of Jesus we see a foreshadowing of the "baptism" of his bloody death upon the cross. Jesus' baptism is the acceptance and the beginning of his mission as God's suffering Servant (Isaiah 42:1-4). He allowed himself to be numbered among sinners. Jesus submitted himself entirely to his Father's will. Out of love he consented to this baptism of death for the remission of our sins. Do you know the joy of trust and submission to God?

Jesus' baptism - beginning of a new creation

The Father proclaimed his entire delight in his Son and spoke audibly for all to hear. The Holy Spirit, too, was present as he anointed Jesus for his ministry which began that day as he rose from the waters of the Jordan river. Jesus will be the source of the Spirit for all who come to believe in him. At his baptism the heavens were opened and the waters were sanctified by the descent of Jesus and the Holy Spirit, signifying the beginning of a new creation.

Heaven will open for those who bow before the Lord

How can we enter into the mystery of Jesus' humble self-abasement and baptism? Gregory of Nazianzus (329-389 AD), an early church father tells us:

"Let us be buried with Christ by Baptism to rise with him; let us go down with him to be raised with him; and let us rise with him to be glorified with him."

Do you want to see your life transformed in the likeness of Christ? And do you want to become a more effective instrument of the Gospel? Examine Jesus' humility and ask the Holy Spirit to forge this same attitude in your heart. As you do, heaven will open for you as well.

The Holy Spirit transforms us in the likeness of Jesus

The Lord Jesus is ever ready to renew and refashion us in his likeness through the gift and working of the Holy Spirit - and he anoints us for mission as ambassadors of his kingdom of righteousness (moral goodness), peace, and joy (Romans 14:17). We are called to be the "light" and "salt" of his kingdom that radiate the beauty and aroma of his mercy and goodness to those around us (Matthew 5:13,15-16). The Lord Jesus wants his love and truth to shine through us that many others may find new life, freedom, and joy in the Holy Spirit. Ask the Lord Jesus to fill you with his Holy Spirit that you may radiate the joy of the Gospel to those around you.

Lord Jesus, fill me with your Holy Spirit and with the fire of your love and goodness. May I always find joy and delight in seeking to please you in doing your will just as you have delighted in the joy of pleasing your Father and doing his will.

Along the Jordan's slow and sacred flow,
John calls the lost to turn their hearts anew;
The desert listens as the waters glow,
Awaiting One the prophets long foreknew.
Then Jesus comes where penitent souls stand,
Steps into waves that cleanse both flesh and soul;
The Baptist trembles, yields his guiding hand,
As heaven moves toward its hidden goal.

The skies are torn; the Spirit, dove-like, falls,
A sign of peace on rippling, humbled air;
The Father's voice through time and water calls:
"My Son, Beloved, marked by holy care."
Thus in the stream, the Christ is plainly shown—
God enters flesh, and claims the world
His own.

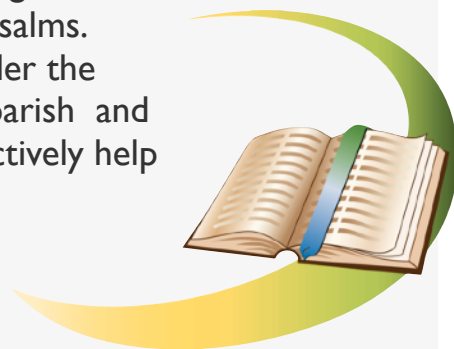

Treating science as a religion ultimately lets its adherents down because it asks science to do a job it was never meant to do. Science is a powerful method for investigating the natural world, but it is not a source of meaning, moral guidance, or ultimate purpose. When elevated to a belief system, it can create false expectations—that every important question has, or will have, a purely empirical answer. This leaves people ill-equipped to grapple with ethics, suffering, beauty, or love, which cannot be measured or replicated in a lab. Moreover, turning science into an unquestionable authority undermines its own strength: healthy science depends on skepticism, humility, and revision, not dogma. When dissent is treated as heresy rather than inquiry, scientific culture risks becoming rigid and ideological. In the end, scientism narrows human understanding, reducing rich dimensions of experience to data points, and leaves adherents with answers that are precise, yet often existentially incomplete.
